MEA expresses concern over threat of Sympathy Action

The Malta Employers' Association expressed concern at the escalation of the dispute between Enemalta Corporation and the General Workers Union, in particular at the statement by the GWU that is threatening to take sympathy action in companies in which it has recognition.

The MEA stated that no one stands to gain if the country comes at a standstill through such actions and urged the GWU to act cautiously and more responsibly. MEA president, Mr. Arthur Muscat said that the Association will stand behind its members and will exercise its legitimate rights as an employers' union to defend their interests if the GWU resorts to sympathy action. He appealed for the Union to avoid an unnecessary escalation and called for a quick and reasonable resolution to the current conflict between Enemalta and the GWU.
