To whom it may concern

A fast moving and well researched program, MEA is a very good example of a high standard production by an interest group. In this series, the Malta Employers Association helps entrepreneurs, highlights innovations, promotes good practice in industry and shows that SMEs are the salt of the Earth in Malta. This is done not only through the appropriate use of news and the visual medium but also through the promotion of inclusivity – the program is presented by a person with serious physical impairments. MEA promotes holistically a very positive business environment.
